Q&A (Questions and Answers)

Q&A: What types of bikes are allowed?

4. What types of bikes are permitted?

- Road racing bikes and/or gravel bikes without auxiliary motors are permitted.
- No time trial or triathlon attachments may be fitted.
- In addition, disc wheels are not permitted.
- Helmets are compulsory for all bike rides!
- E-bike riders will be ranked separately, but it is not possible to win the world championship title with an e-bike.

5. How is the timing and scoring done?

- Participants are divided into groups of 10 riders who set off together on the course.
- The pace is moderate, "no drop pace".
- There will be a short stop at both segments, and the group of 10 participants will start individually, with a time interval of 30 seconds.
- At the end of the segment, the participants in the group wait together and ride together again at a "no drop pace" to the next segment.
- The two segment times are scored, which are measured to 1/1000 of a second using chip timing.

6. How are the starting groups divided?

- This is done randomly by drawing lots. It does not matter in the end, as the segments are ridden at a moderate pace (no drop pace). Each group is accompanied by a guide with local knowledge.
